Weird and Wonderful (Wild Nature) Elizabeth Laskey

Why would a frog look like a turtle? Which lizard can squirt blood from its eyes? Which flowers can kill insects? The answers to these questions are not characters in a movie. They are real animals and plants that you will meet in 'Weird and Wonderful'. You will also meet a beetle that boils its insides and a bird that dances on the water. All this squirting, boiling, and dancing is fun to learn about, but it is not about playing games. This book will show you how being weird helps animals and plants survive.
