The world's three great monotheistic religions have spent most of their historical careers in conflict or competition with each other. And yet in fact they sprung from the same spiritual roots and have been nurtured in the same historical soil. This book--an extraordinarily comprehensive and approachable comparative introduction to these religions--seeks not so much to demonstrate the truth of this thesis as to illustrate it. Frank Peters, one of the world's foremost experts on the monotheistic faiths, takes Judaism, Christianity, and Islam, and after briefly tracing the roots of each, places them side by side to show both their similarities and their differences.

Volume I, The Peoples of God, tells the story of the foundation and formation of the three monotheistic communities, of their visible, historical presence. Volume II, The Words and Will of God, is devoted to their inner life, the spirit that animates and regulates them.

Peters takes us to where these religions live: their scriptures, laws, institutions, and intentions; how each seeks to worship God and achieve salvation; and how they deal with their own (orthodox and heterodox) and with others (the goyim, the pagans, the infidels). Throughout, he measures--but never judges--one religion against the other. The prose is supple, the method rigorous. This is a remarkably cohesive, informative, and accessible narrative reflecting a lifetime of study by a single recognized authority in all three fields.

The Monotheists is a magisterial comparison, for students and general readers as well as scholars, of the parties to one of the most troubling issues of today--the fierce, sometimes productive and often destructive, competition among the world's monotheists, the siblings called Jews, Christians, and Muslims.

Edwin Ball:

As a college student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher questioned them to go to the library as well as to make summary for some e-book, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's soul or real their hobby. They just do what the teacher want, like asked to the library. They go to at this time there but nothing reading very seriously. Any students feel that studying is not important, boring along with can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this period, many ways to get whatever we want. Likewise word says, ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this The Monotheists: Jews, Christians, and Muslims in Conflict and Competition, Volume I: The Peoples of God can make you really feel more interested to read.
